FLAVOR TEXT – THE OPERATOR'S HANDBOOK

"Once is happenstance. Twice is coincidence. The third time it's enemy action." – Ian Fleming, Goldfinger. The self-care version: the first missed day is chance, the second is a pattern beginning, the third is a message worth reading. File the report. "The truth is that Smiley had loved the Service." – John le Carré, Tinker Tailor Soldier Spy. What do you love enough to stay loyal to through the long, unglamorous years? Write it. "Going dark doesn't mean going away. It means the frequencies have shifted." – practitioner note. The terminal receives you on every channel. "The mission is never finished. The debrief is part of the mission." – Operator's Handbook, v29. The entry after the entry is where the real intelligence lives.
